

The new Donor Act will take effect on 1 July 2020. Everyone in the Netherlands aged 18 or over will be included in the Donor Register. It is important that you register your choice. Your family, partner or friend will then know if you wish to donate organs and tissue after your death.

What are the options?

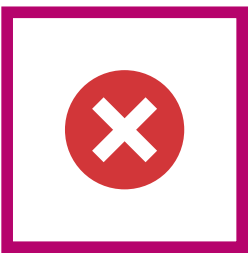

Register your choice at www.donorregister.nl.

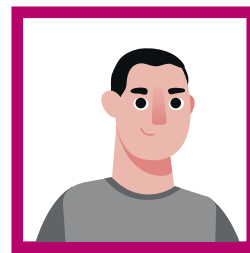

Yes, I want to donate.

I want my partner or family to decide after my death.

No, I do not want to donate.

You want someone else to decide on your behalf after your death. For example a good friend.

What will happen if I do not register a choice?

If you still have not indicated your choice by 1 July 2020, you will be entered in the Donor Register as having 'no objection'. That means that your organs and tissue can be donated to a patient after your death.

Register your choice so that your family, partner or friend know your wish.

I have registered my choice. What is next?

No further action is required. Your choice remains logged in the register.

Can I change my choice?

You can modify your choice at any time via www.donorregister.nl.
