READ You are listed in the Donor Register as having ‘no objection’
making you an organ donor

Dear reader,

Since you never registered a specific choice in the Donor Register, your status is currently listed as ‘No objection to organ donation’. That means your organs and tissues can be used to help someone else after your death, making you an organ donor. This may be fine with you. You may also prefer to make a different choice.

IT'S YOUR DECISION

What are your choices?

Yes, I want to become a donor

You want to be a donor.
You can choose which organs and tissues you wish to donate.

No, I do not want
to become a donor

You do not want to be a donor.

My partner or family
will decide on my behalf

You want your family
to choose for you in the event of your death.

I designate a person
to make this choice
on my behalf.

You want someone else
to make this choice for you in the event of your death. You should let this person know about your choice.

You don't make any changes

You remain listed in the Donor Register as having no objection to donating your organs.

Whichever choice you make is fine. You can always change your mind later if you want.
Talk about it with your family and the people who are important to you.
